21 File Petitions For School Board Offices

Twenty-one candidates have filed petitions for 12 high school and grade school board seats to be voted on in the April 10 election.

Incumbents face opposition in the Antioch grade and high school districts and the Grass Lake District. In the Emmons School District, incumbents are running unopposed.

Fred Walpole and Larry Fears are the challengers for the three seats to be filled in the high school board election.

Incumbents seeking re-election to three year terms are Bette Meyer, Albert Bucar and Robert Lindblad.

In the grade school, Milo B. Bailey, president of the board, and Richard C. Harland, both incumbents, face five others in the election which will see three named for three year terms.

They are John A. Fries, La

Verne M. Woods, Charles Ray Atwood, Leslie Faber, Jr., and Jay W. Richardson.

The other incumbent, Dr. Fred Bobzien, did not choose to run this time.

Unopposed in the Emmons School District are the incumbents, Richard Ruck, Daniel Maras and Ronald Sheedlo.

Supt. William Hart of Grass Lake School reports that at the March 19 deadline for board petitions a total of six candidates have expressed a desire to serve on the school board for the coming school year.

Hart stated the terms of Gary Vaughn, Mrs. Lorraine Cerk, and Lawrence Yopp expire this year.

In addition to the three incumbents returning petitions, Mrs. Elizabeth Shkapich, Michael Wojnowiak and Mrs. Doris Samson have returned petitions of candidacy.

Supt. Hart reminds voters of the April 10 election to be held at the Grass Lake School.

Polls will be open from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

Voters are reminded of two other important dates—April 5, the last day for applying for absentee ballots by mail and April 7, the last day for obtaining an absentee ballot in person.

Ballots may be obtained at the school office any week day from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. starting Mar. 31.

A crowd of parents and teachers listened Sunday to Congressman Robert McClory-R. Lake Bluff during the dedication exercises of the new Antioch Upper Grade School Center. Following the ceremony, tours were conducted through the new building.

School Molds Youth For Good Citizenship

School is one of the ingredients that contributes to the development of a successful citizen; Cong. Robert McClory, R-Lake Bluff, said at the dedication ceremonies of the new Antioch Upper Grade School.

"The home environment, the church and other community facilities which affect a student's life, are all of critical importance," McClory said.

An audience of teachers, residents, parents and students attended the afternoon ceremony in the new school facility built at a cost of $1,675,000.

"You supply those ingredients in this community," he told his listeners. "And this combination results in the success which is evidenced—not alone in the building construction program, or even in the academic programs which are followed—but more importantly in the end product: a well-educated and highly motivated young person who will contribute to making this an even better world in which to live."

"Today, in Antioch, we are experiencing an example of what is best in American life and what is promising to America's future—an inspired and dedicated citizenry—strengthened by classrooms of young people who hold in their grasp the promise hope of a future without limitations."

McClory was introduced by Dr. W. C. Petty of Antioch, Lake County school superintendent.

Also speaking was Milo Bailey, president of the board of education.

Multiple Family Zoning Recommended

The Zoning Board of Appeals Tuesday night recommended a change of zoning on a petition of 32.40 acres north of the new Upper Grade School of District 34 and just west of Tiffany Road.

Thomas Haley, chairman of the Zoning Board, announced the board's decision during the village board's public hearing on a pre-annexation agreement of the acreage proposed for development as single and multiple family homes.

The developers, Antioch professional and business men, announced they plan to build 120 2½ story garden type apartments on 22.33 acres and single family units on 10.07 acres. No single family homes will be developed at the present time.

The Zoning Board has recommended a change of zoning to R-5 multiple family on the 22.33 acres, and R-1 single family on 10.07 acres.

Final decision on amending the zoning ordinance is the responsibility of the Village Board.

The Zoning Board, chaired by Haley, heard the petitioners at Tuesday's hearing. There were no objections filed to the petition.

Atty. James Lumber and Ted C. Larson represented the petitioners.

Lumber said the type of structure planned by the developers would not depreciate surrounding property, would not increase vehicle traffic, but would bring in tenants who would spend money in the village thus increasing the village's share of income tax and motor fuel tax rebates.

"With the Federal government pushing for more housing I believe such a development as outlined at this meeting would be an advantage to Antioch," said Lumber. "This project is backed by men who have a professional stake in the community and is not owned by an impersonal trust or financial institution."

Larson presented the backgrounds of the developers including Dr. John J. Lorange and Dr. Edward Abderholden, physicians and surgeons; Dr. Albert Bucar, an optometrist, and Ted and Bob Costoff, owners of a chain of Antioch and Wisconsin hardware stores.

Dr. Bucar testified that the intent was not to develop the entire 120 units planned on the 22.33 acre site at one time, declaring that it would stretch out over a period of three to four years.

"When we had 80 per cent occupancy on a unit," Dr. Bucar said, "we would make plans for developing another."

He added that the development would not place a burden on the

Antioch Woman In Junior College Race

An Antioch woman is one of seven candidates who is in the race for one of three seats to be filled in the College of Lake County's election April 10.

She is Mrs. Helen Kopriva of 475 Winsor Drive, wife of Dr. James Warren Kopriva, a physician and surgeon and senior partner in the Antioch Clinic.

Mrs. Kopriva, who attended De Pauw and Northwestern Universities, is not inexperienced in sitting on school boards. She has served terms as a member of the Antioch high school and grade school boards.

"It has always interested me in serving the community as a member of the school board," she said. "If elected to the college board, my mind shall be open on all issues coming before it."

Mrs. Kopriva who has the support of the League of Women Auxiliary to the Lake County Medical Society from 1968 to 1969 and currently is chairman of the legislative committee of the Women's Auxiliary to the Illinois Medical Society.

Mrs. Kopriva is the mother of three children. Phyllis is employed in the public relations department of the Illinois State Medical Society, Barbara works at the Continental Assurance Co., Chicago, and James is a sophomore on the Champaign campus of the University of Illinois.

One of the three to be elected must represent an unincorporated area. Seeking this seat is Theodore E. Paxton of 1104 Paxton Drive, Zion, an incumbent.

Oakland PTA To Sponsor Saturday Fun Festival

The Oakland Grade School Parent Teacher Association is sponsoring a fun festival on Mar. 28.

The fun festival is one of the PTA's annual fund-raising events. In addition to raising funds to purchase much needed classroom equipment, the PTA views the fun festival as an opportunity for all families in the area to spend an afternoon together.

Providing entertainment for parents and children to share together is an excellent way to bolster parent-child relationships, according to the PTA.

The Fun Festival, to be held at Oakland Grade School from 12 until 6 p.m., will include many Carnival booths, a cake walk, games for all ages, and a complete menu for the family.

There will also be a babysitting service for toddlers under the supervision of the school nurse.

Ed Johnson and Joe Sanford of Antioch are the co-chairmen for the festival. Other committee members include Mrs. Robert Ratch, Mrs. Richard Wells, Mrs. Arthur Koeller, Mrs. Jay Richardson, and Mrs. Ralph Montrims.

Volunteer parents and teachers will work in the booths and the kitchen during the afternoon.

Rate Hike Asked

Antioch High School residents will be asked to raise the educational tax rate from 92 cents to $1.32 cents per $100 of assessed valuation at a referendum April 24.

A proposed 40-cent increase will cost taxpayers an additional $40 on a home assessed at $10,000.

Asst. Supt. Warren Polley said the district has proposed the educational tax rate increase because the income is not enough to operate.

He said the money is being borrowed from the transportation and building funds and at the end of the year it must be paid back.

The Antioch High School educational tax base is the lowest in the county.

The last voted increase of 10 cents in the educational tax rate was passed by Antioch voters in the late 1950's.

"Since being elected supervisor I have provided housing for the equipment of the Township Highway Department. I also have established a local township office, open six days a week, housing the office of supervisor, assessor and town clerk for the convenience of township residents."

Murrie points with pride to one of his achievements of eliminating junk cars from the township. "While there is still much to be done in this area, we have made a good start and I shall continue to work with the Building and Zoning Department until this problem is solved," he said.

Murrie is now fifth in seniority out of the 37 members sitting on the county board. He has served on all the top committees for the past 10 years and has been a member of the important finance committee, serving as chairman the past five years.

In 1966 and 1967, he was elected chairman of the county board, which was a first for Antioch Township.

Murrie cited sanitary sewers as one of the biggest projects "we face in west Lake County."

"As the area rapidly expands with new homes, the problems encountered with septic tanks becomes more acute," he said. "Pollution of the lakes must be stopped and the only answer is a centralized county sewer system."

He is serving on a special committee appointed to facilitate and investigate all avenues in getting this project started.

Murrie is running on the Progressive ticket. His runningmate is Township Highway Commissioner Blaine Ring.

Coast Guard To Run Information Center

The Coast Guard Boating Safety Detachment is charged with the promotion of boating safety and the protection of life, limb and property. There will be patrolling our waters this summer for your comfort and protection.

The Coast Guard believes that the way to achieve boating safety is thru boating education.

For this purpose the Boating Safety Detachment 09-1 of Fox Lake, Ill. will operate an Information Center where literature and information on boating safety and legal requirements as well as local weather conditions may be obtained. You may begin your boat any Saturday or Sunday or make an appointment for a Courtesy Examination during the week. Failure to pass a Courtesy Examination by the Coast Guard Auxiliary at the Coast Guard Office carrier no penalty.

Free demonstrations and boating safety classes will be conducted at the center and will be advertised at a later date.

The U. S. Coast Guard and Coast Guard Auxiliary patrol boats can be stopped for a courtesy examination any time without fear of penalty.

However, if education fails, the Coast Guard will promote boating safety thru Law Enforcement. Violations of the Motor Boat Act of 1940 can carry a Maximum Fine of $100 for each equipment violation and $50 for each registration violation.

For Safety's Sake, stop by the Coast Guard Safety Center at 17 S. Rte. 12 Fox Lake, Illinois 60020 and join the officers there in a cup of coffee as they check your boat over and answer your questions.

Red Cross To Hold First Aid Seminar

Lake County Industries can benefit from a Red Cross First Aid Seminar during the month of April, according to Bill Berg of Zion, Industrial Safety Inspector with the Illinois Department of Labor, and the Red Cross Volunteer Coordinator for the Seminar.

Businesses which have enrolled supervisory employees in past seminar courses, have experienced a significant reduction in lost-time injuries.

The course includes a rigid examination in the care of burns, shock, fracture, breathing stoppages, eye, ear and throat injuries, as well as training in the proper care of a minor impairment before it becomes an aggravated, costly personal injury.

The free Seminar for the Lake County Region begins on Thursday, April 8th in Victory Memorial Hospital, Waukegan, and meets every Thursday for four weeks thereafter from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

The hospital administration has volunteered the use of the Nurses Training Room for the Seminar.

Nothing For Something

Hey, Mr. Taxpayer, do you have any idea how much your Uncle Sam spends for advice every year? You don't? Well, that's not surprising, for Uncle doesn't know either.

He tried to find out by sending questionnaires to all his various departments, bureaus and agencies. He got quite a list—some 3,200 advisory committees and commissions—but an accurate count seemed impossible. One department first reported it had 383 advisory committees; then it said the figure should be 420; but another check revealed 511 and they're still counting.

No one really knows what this costs the American taxpayer. But the survey did show that 1,800 of the advisory bodies employ some 4,400 people, and it costs $75 million a year to maintain them. That's not counting the cost of 900 or so inter-agency committees and 500 or more advisory groups of various kinds.

The investigation showed some committees have staff but no members. At least 50 hadn't met for two years or more. More than 300 didn't even bother to answer the query. And it was discovered that there are committees to advise committees.

Well, here's a bit of FREE advice. Dear Congress: kill off every committee that isn't performing an essential service.

The Barrier

Congress should move swiftly to rescind the little-known but extremely coercive and highly inflationary Davis-Bacon Act. This law, passed during the depression, has had the effect of requiring that the highest prevailing union wages be paid to workers on federal and federally assisted construction projects. President Nixon has taken the first needed step by suspending this provision of the Act. The next move is up to Congress.

Instead of moving now to subject all of us to price and wage restrictions, Congress should completely wipe out this law that has artificially helped to boost construction costs throughout the country. Its repeal would not restrict either management or labor. But it would eliminate the leap-frogging effect of forcing up the costs of construction in an entire area if it has a federal project underway, even though less expensive labor might be available. Low and middle-income Americans, searching for adequate housing for their families, would benefit from prompt Congressional response.

Wage settlements in the construction industry have been twice as high as in manufacturing generally. And it appears that the construction workers themselves are suffering because unemployment in their industry is double the national average.

If the tax referendum is okayed the district will get about $284,000 in additional money based on its assessed valuation of $71,751,000.

Enrollment at Antioch High School has gained from 701 in 1960-61 to 1,305 for the current year.

In November 1968 voters in the district approved a $2,600,000 building bond issue for an addition to the high school by a vote of 937 to 866. Except for the gymnasium the addition is now complete.

Polling places for the referendum are Antioch High School, 1133 S. Main St.; Central School, Rte. 83 and Grand Avenue, Lake Villa, and B. J. Hooper School, Beek and Sand Lake Roads, Lindenhurst.

Also at the last meeting, Arthur Blecke, director of students, explained the newly-initiated experiment by which students discipline students for minor infractions of the school code.

Blecke said the discipline procedure was established under the direction of the government class, and is parallel to the democratic system of jurisprudence.

The board voted to discontinue the popular girl's physical educational course in bowling because the $1,600 expenditure for the six-week course is proving an additional strain on a tightened budget.

The board indicated its intent to reinstate the course as soon as financially possible.

Athletic Director Ward Lear reported that winter sports at the high school were not lacking in participation.

He said 115 boys took part in interscholastic basketball and wrestling.

school, indicating that possibly 12 to 24 new students would be brought into the school districts.

The estimated valuation of the development would be $15 to $2 million, he said.

Concern was expressed at the pre-annexation public hearing about the proposed development overtaxing the present sewage plant facilities.

Frank Angelotti, village engineer pointed out that the present plant could not accommodate 120 units, unless there was an addition.

Angelotti said he hopes to file plans with Environmental Protection Agency under the State Anti-Pollution Act for federal funds, by April 30.

He said he hopes to hear in several months as to how much funds the village will be entitled through federal and state agencies.

"When we find out," he said, "we'll sell bonds to finance the expansion and then recall them when the state and federal monies come in."

The village has put aside in various funds $100,000 for an addition to the plant. A referendum is not likely for the additional money, it was reported. Estimated cost of the expansion is $350,000.

Current thinking on the village board is to enlarge the plant to serve another 5,000 people, with provisions to serve an additional 2,500 without much cost.

Fire Chief Charles Maplethorpe said the village's rating could be in jeopardy if the apartment exceeds 35 feet, and that the village

Can You Sue The City? Yes, But The Law Is In A State of Change

Regardless of the old saying that "You can't fight city hall," you might be able to sue it.

Since statehood, the law of Illinois has been that counties, municipalities, school districts, and most other units of local government were immune, or exempt, from responsibility for their wrongful acts or those of their employees.

To citizens, says the Illinois State Bar Association, this protective shield against liability had great importance. It meant, for example, that if you were injured by a school bus you could not successfully bring a civil suit against the school district for damages caused by one of its employees.

BEGONIAS ARE BEAUTIFUL

Begonias fill this box between wall and window just as they could fill your window boxes. A new, larger-flowered variety is called Bloomin' Big.

The reasons for the new favor which wax begonias are enjoying are the changes in these plants achieved by hybridizers. Not only are individual flowers and flower clusters larger than ever before but plants even may be grown in full sun where formerly they were used only in shaded places.

The way to provide your garden with masses of begonias is to grow the plants from seeds sown indoors in late winter. It isn't hard if you realize one thing—begonia seeds are fine as dust. The medium in which (not in which—they are not covered) you sow them must also be finely textured.

You might use a half and half mixture of finely ground neutral peat moss and vermiculite or milled sphagnum moss and vermiculite in the same proportions. Either, well watered, then let drain will provide good conditions for begonia seeds.

Fill containers that have good drainage holes in the bottom with the mixture you choose. Firm with a block of wood or the palm of your hand. Sprinkle seeds on surface; settle them with a fine spray of water.

Set planted containers in plastic refrigerator bags, then place where temperature is between 60 and 65 degrees. Except for occasional sampling to make certain the growing medium is moist, no care is needed. Within about 2 weeks you'll see seedlings sprouting. Then move to a windowsill, preferably one with an eastern exposure.

As soon as seedlings are large enough to handle move them to 2 or 2½ inch pots, clay or peat. These should be filled with equal parts of your best garden soil and peat, well stirred. Water and let drain after transplanting.

Keep the young plants away from hot sun, growing in a 60 degree temperature. Water when necessary and fertilize with a weak solution of a soluble fertilizer every 10th day, directly after watering.

As plant roots fill pots, seedlings can be moved to pots a size larger. From these they probably will be moved to your garden when frost-free time arrives in your area. Then when they bloom profusely, you'll be delighted that you grew them as you enjoy their beauty.

Traffic Safety Women Will Meet In Gurnee On April 3

Region I of the Illinois Conference of Women Leaders for Traffic Safety will meet at the Rustic Manor, Grand Avenue, Gurnee, Saturday, April 3; registration 10:30 a.m.; meeting 11:00 a.m., luncheon at noon. Deadline on reservations is Saturday, March 27. Reservations may be made with Elvina Latimer, 365-2835 McHenry, Barbara Raymond, 689-6591, Waukegan, Bertha Tamm, 338-2770, Woodstock, Elaine Sup, 834-5963 Elmhurst.

What is the governor's safety program? Elvina Latimer, president of Region I, explains there are still four major areas where the State of Illinois is not in compliance with the 16 standards issued by the National Highway Safety Bureau.

One of the most important of these is the "implied consent law" to provide testing for drivers charged with driving under the influence of alcohol. It has been proven that more accidents occur because of drinking drivers than any other cause.

"Implied consent" also protects the sick since a driver may be afflicted with one of over 60 diseases bearing the same symptoms as drunkenness. In a case like this the driver can receive the immediate medical attention he needs.

Why is Illinois one of four states not having an "implied consent law"?

Candy Schroeder Minks, representing Peoples Gas Company, Chicago, will demonstrate the suitcases of samples of more than 26,000 natural gas-based products on the market today.

North Shore Gas serves consumers in 46 communities in northeastern Illinois.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

Thought's effect on daily experience will be brought out in a Lesson-Sermon on "Reality" at Christian Science church services Sunday.

"Hold thought steadfastly to the enduring, the good, and the true, and you will bring these into your experience proportionably to their occupancy of your thoughts," a citation to be read from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy states.

Bible selections include this verse from Philippians: "Finally, brethren, whatsoever things are true, whatsoever things are honest, whatsoever things are just, whatsoever things are lovely, whatsoever things are of good report; if there be any praise, think on these things."

Sunday services at First Church of Christ, Scientist, BEACON HILL, Rte. 173 and Harden St., Antioch, begin at 11 a.m. and are open to all.

An optimist showed up at the courthouse the other day to find out when his marriage license would expire. The clerk answered, "It's just like your birth and death certificates. Good forever."

Splash Party Is Planned By 4-H Group

Antioch Chiefs and Squads 4-H Club held their March business meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Auxier. Plans were discussed for "Share the Fun" and all will be very busy practicing a skit called "All Houses Are Haunted." They had as judge for tryouts Mrs. A. Biel of P.M.E.L.

They also decided on an outing which will be a splash party and pizza party combined on April 24 at Marina Motel in Fox Lake. Selling candy has provided them with the money to pay for this Fun Day.

Material for certain projects also will be paid for with their profits. Sewing and Gun Safety will keep them busy now, and Mosaics and Wood Working have been completed.

After their meeting the girls judged the boys' woodworking project, and the results were as follows: Ronald Knab and Chuck Auxier, blue ribbons; Jack Ester and Tom Zeman, red ribbons. Congratulations, boys. Keep up the good work.

TAXPAYERS ASK IRS

Q-To have you compute my tax, should I just bring my return into an IRS office?

A-No, the computation is done at the IRS service center for your area when you file your return. The IRS will figure your tax if your income is $20,000 or less and consists only of wages or salaries, and tips, dividends, interest, pensions, and annuities and you choose the standard deduction instead of itemizing deductions.

The IRS will figure both the retirement income credit and your tax for you if you meet the income and deduction requirements. Just follow the instructions at the top of Schedule R. Be sure to attach the necessary schedules and W-2's and sign your return. Further details on this can be found on Page 2 of the 1040 instructions.

Q-My son made over $1,000 last year. Does that mean I'll lose his exemption?

A-The amount of your son's earnings will not change his dependency status if he was either a full-time student during five months of the year or under 19 at year's end. The support and other dependency tests must still be met, however.

Q-Since I was not married until last fall, I was single most of the year. Can I file a joint return?

A-Yes, your marital status for tax purposes is determined by what it was on the last day of your tax year. For example, someone married on the last day of the year is considered married for the entire year.

Q-I've been told I don't have to pay tax on the pay I received while I was out sick. Is that right?

A-You may not be taxed on all or part of your pay received for periods of sickness provided certain conditions are met. Details on how to claim this benefit are given on Form 2440 which may be obtained from any local IRS office.

To summarize the sick pay provisions, if your company paid you more than 75 percent of your regular pay then you must wait 30 days before you can exclude any pay from income. After the waiting period, you may exclude up to $100 a week.

If you received 75 percent or less of your pay there is a 7-day waiting period. Afterwards, you may exclude up to $75 a week. After 30 days you may exclude up to $100 a week. However, if you were hospitalized there is no 7-day waiting period.

Q-I had about $45 in interest last year from several savings accounts. Do I have to list how much I got from each of them?

A-In cases where interest income is $100 or less, just enter the total amount of your interest income on the front of your Form 1040. When interest income is over $100 it has to be itemized by amount and payer and entered on Schedule B.

Q-My tax situation looks so complicated this year that I want to get some paid professional help this year. Where can I get a reliable person to help me?

A-Call your local accounting, legal or tax practitioner association. They will be able to supply you with names of qualified people.

Avoid any person who "guarantees" you a refund or who suggests that the refund be sent to his address. Also, you should never sign a blank return or one that has been prepared in pencil. Remember, you are legally responsible for every item on your return even though someone else helped you prepare it.

Q-What's the surcharge rate for 1970 income?

A-The income tax surcharge for 1970 is 2 1/2 percent. Tables on the surcharge are included with the 1040 instructions.

Q-I had a loss on some shares of stock I sold last year. Is this deductible?

A-Yes, capital losses are deductible and can be used to offset capital gains. In addition capital losses can be used to offset other income up to a maximum of $1,000 a year. The limit is $500 each on the returns of married persons filing separately.

Note that the 1969 Tax Reform Act did make some changes in the handling of capital losses. While short term losses are still fully deductible from ordinary income, only one-half of the excess of the net long term capital loss over the net short term capital gain is deductible up to the $1,000 maximum.

Q-My wife and I both work. Should we file joint or separate returns?

A-Usually, married taxpayers will pay less tax if they file joint rather than separate returns. Since there are situations where this is not true, figure your tax both ways to find out which is best for you.

Note that when separate returns are filed, deductions must be handled the same way on both returns. If one itemizes, so must the other. If the standard deduction is used, both must use the same type, either the percentage deduction or the low income allowance.

Low Cost Insurance Issued Disabled Vets

The Veterans Administration issued $212 million worth of low-cost "RH" life insurance policies to 22,000 disabled veterans in 1970—the most for any year since the 1951 start of the program.

VA insurance officials noted the 1970 total was an increase of about 50 per cent over 1969. The increase was attributed largely to the agency's intensified efforts to inform service-disabled veterans about the insurance designed especially for them.

A disabled veteran is eligible for $10,000 coverage under this insurance if discharged after April 1951 and if in good health except for his disability. He must apply for it within one year of the date VA notifies him of his disability rating.

Thus, a veteran disabled in military service can obtain $25,000 in life insurance coverage by taking out an "RH" policy, and converting his $15,000 Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI) to an individual policy.

Recently separated servicemen must apply for an individual policy from one of the private companies participating in the SGLI program 120 days after discharge from service.

If they are totally disabled at separation, however, they have up to one year while still totally disabled to convert their SGLI.

VA insurance officials pointed out that "RH" life insurance makes available this additional coverage for many disabled veterans who otherwise would find it difficult to obtain additional commercial life insurance, except at very high premium rates.

Veterans with service-connected disabilities who are interested in applying for "RH" life insurance were urged to contact their nearest VA office.

It has been suggested that some of the highways have signs reading "This road may be dangerous and expensive to your health, nerves, tires and car."

McClory Introduces Labor Court Legislation

Representative Robert McClory (R-Ill.) recently introduced legislation "to provide for the Establishment of a United States Court of Labor-Management Relations." The Court would provide for a system of compulsory arbitration in certain types of disputes between labor unions and management.

The five-man Court would have jurisdiction in labor disputes in industry substantially affecting commerce. The Court would become involved in a particular dispute only after the parties themselves had exhausted all avenues for voluntary settlement, had failed to come to an agreement, and as a result, a work stoppage had occurred or appeared imminent.

Jurisdiction could also be invoked if the President determines a settlement to be inflationary, or otherwise inimical to the best interests of the country.

Congressman McClory declared that once the Court's jurisdiction had been invoked, it would be empowered to enjoin any actual or threatened work stoppage for a period of 80 days. During this time, collective bargaining between the employer and the employee would continue under the supervision of the Court, which would be authorized to issue whatever orders were necessary to induce the parties to make every effort to settle their differences through collective bargaining.

The Congressman said that if, at the conclusion of the 80-day period, the parties advise the Court that a negotiated settlement is impossible, the Court will continue the injunction and set the case down for immediate hearings and final determination. Mr. McClory's bill provides that all due processes of law will be guaranteed, and the parties will be given every reasonable opportunity to present arguments in support of their positions. Finally, a binding judgment will be handed down, covering all matters of dispute.

Pointing out that "the Anglo-Saxon world submits every known dispute to its Courts for solution," Congressman McClory said "there was no reason a labor-management dispute should be an exception."

Congressman McClory stressed that the bill was a pro-consumer, pro-working man and pro-public. He said that with the Labor Court's compulsory settlement waiting at the end of fruitless negotiations, labor and management will be inclined to forego uncompromising power struggles in favor of honest and open negotiations; that the winner would be society; that the losses which come from national emergency strikes would be stopped; the economy stabilized, and the cost of wildly inflated settlements will not continue to be visited upon the consumer.

THE ANTIOCH NEWS-6

Antioch Residents Aid USO Facilities

Whether it be for a fleet canteen in Naples or a USO show in Thailand, the need for USO services hit a high level of urgency in various parts of the world during the past year but the message remained the same. "Our work isn't done as long as there's one serviceman away from home." That is the real story of USO as it was in 1941 and is today.

Lake Countians contributed to the work being done in 129 state-side and 62 overseas facilities through their donations to the United Fund Campaign last fall. United Community Services of Lake County, the organization responsible for the annual fund drive to support twenty-six social and welfare agencies, allocated a total of $2,500 to support the USO operations.

For the first time in the history of the United Service Organizations (USO), it was requested that a USO club be opened in Frankfurt, Germany, and just last year USO was asked to open a new facility in Vicenza, Italy, to serve our ground forces in Southern Europe headquarters there. This expansion resulted in a total of 21 facilities operating full or part-time in Europe in countries such as France, Italy, Greece, Malta and Spain.

In Vietnam, where "USO" has become a by-word with military personnel since its inception there in 1963, average monthly door-counts exceeded 600,000, a testament to the value and importance of USO in that war-torn country. During recent months some clubs have closed because of redeployment while others have opened to accommodate troops who have withdrawn from forward combat areas.

That touch of home, so vital in all USO operations, remains the same. Hundreds of GI's utilized the services of USO in Vietnam which range from snack bars, barber shops, music rooms and lounges to an expanded overseas telephone exchange which made it possible to speak to a loved one back home.

The second major concentration of USO clubs in that part of the world is in Thailand where five facilities operate in areas such as Nakhon Phanom in the North to U-Tapao in the South. In one location alone, Sattahip, monthly door count averages over 100,000 and since the club originally opened about three years ago, approximately 2,000,000 visits have been made by servicemen.

Thus it is, that thanks to the American people, and to the Lake Countians who contributed generously to the 1970 United Fund Campaign, around the world our young men have experienced a touch of home in their far-away outpost. They have heard the USO message, "Our work isn't done as long as there's one serviceman away from home," and they will remember.

Exploring Scouts To Admit Girls To Full Membership

After two years of research and field experience, the Exploring Division of the Boy Scouts of America will now admit teenage girls to full membership in Exploring, its high school-age action program.

The announcement was made here today by George F. Kree, Jr., Exploring Executive, after word was received that approval has been given by the National Executive Board of the BSA and will be effective April 1.

Kree said that the action taken nationally was in recognition of the chartered requirement to serve boys and young men, and it would enable Exploring to more effectively carry out its mandate to meet the needs and interests of today's youth.

Until January, 1970, Exploring had been an all-male program. Acting on research studies and recommendations of business, education, religious and youth leaders, Exploring began a one-year trial of admitting young women to participate in the program. Participation was restricted to special-interest Explorer posts organized around a career or vocational interest.

The national Executive Board's action now makes it possible for coeds to become full-fledged members and for adult women volunteers to act in leadership capacities.

During the last year there have been 56 Explorer posts in this area with 22 having girls as participants. The posts specialize in such interests as Medicine, Oceanography, Law, Fire Service, Science, Aviation, Sea Exploring, Veterinary Medicine and Data Processing.

Membership in a post or Sea Explorer ship would be entirely at the discretion of the sponsoring organization, Kree explained.

Age requirements for girls are the same as male members. Members may enroll upon reaching 15 years of age and may remain through their 20th year.

Veterans News

Veterans and their dependents are asking thousands of questions concerning the benefits their Government provides for them through the Veterans Administration. Below are some representative queries. Additional information may be obtained at any VA office.

Q—I have a 10 per cent rating and am in a VA hospital because of a service-connected disability. Will I receive a permanent increase to my compensation?

A—Only if there is a permanent increase in the degree of your service-connected disability. However, if you are hospitalized more than 21 days, a temporary 100 per cent rating will be assigned for the whole period of your hospitalization.

Q—Is it true that World War II veterans may apply for a GI loan without regard to the length of time they have been out of service?

A—Yes, a recent law restored unused expired loan guaranty entitlement to all veterans who were previously eligible. There is no longer a time limit on applying for a GI loan.

Q—My 59-year-old father is a veteran of World War II, and he is receiving a pension because he is unable to work. Can he be treated in a VA hospital even though his condition is not related to his military service?

A—Yes, if a VA examination confirms that he needs hospitalization and a bed is available. Because he receives a pension, it will not be necessary for him to sign a statement of inability to pay.

Q—My husband is in a nursing home. He is a veteran, but his condition is not related to military service. Will VA pay for his nursing home care?

A—VA is permitted to provide nursing home care for a limited time, only for those veterans who have received maximum benefit from VA hospitalization yet still need nursing.

Tornado Safety Checklist

Do This Right Now:

—Teach your children to come home when a storm threatens.

—Designate an area of your home as a tornado shelter—the best spot is centrally located in a basement toward the southwest corner of the house.

—Have flashlight and battery radio ready to take into the shelter when danger is imminent.

During a Tornado Watch: —Prepare to enter your home shelter.

—Open windows away from storm to equalize pressure.

—If not at home, be prepared to take shelter in other suitable location.

During a Tornado Warning: —Take shelter immediately.

—Stay away from windows and open indoor areas.

—Civil defense shelters are usually safest. Heavy furniture or interior, first floor hallways are also protective.

McClory Says Not Logical To Junk Our Space Program

It would be both short-sighted and illogical to consider junking the space program. This is particularly so in the light of the recent spectacular success of the Apollo 14 lunar mission.

Those who suggest that more attention should be paid to conditions here on earth appear to be unaware of the benefit to humanity which are directly attributable to the space program. Furthermore, such critics seem not to realize that following the Apollo program our space activities will be directed primarily to conditions here on earth.

After the remaining three Apollo flights (Apollo 15, 16, and 17), further lunar explorations will be suspended. Thereafter, the space program calls for establishment of a space station or laboratory to be designated "Skylab" which will orbit the earth at altitudes of from 50 to 250 miles. A shuttle service to the orbiting Skylab will enable astronauts to remain in a comfortable habitat while they test man's ability to live for protracted periods in a weightless state.

The Skylab eventually will include 11 companion space-stations all of which will orbit the earth. The entire mission of Skylab will be earth-oriented. The project will serve as a watchdog to monitor water and air pollution. It will be capable of detecting tidal waves, hurricanes, and other possible destroyers of the earth's environment, and is expected to provide long-range predictions of weather conditions.

The Skylab program contemplates the re-use of the basic booster which will place the space stations in orbit. The space shuttles themselves will have the capability of leaving and re-entering the earth's atmosphere, and of landing and taking off from the runways of our larger airports. These space shuttles will be designed to fly missions throughout the entire decade of the seventies—and beyond.

In addition to service in behalf of the earth's environment, Skylab personnel will be able to furnish vital aeronautical and maritime information to aircraft and ships. A related program known as "Vela", which began several years ago, involves nuclear detection satellites capable of viewing detonations of nuclear weapons and missile launches which might affect our national security.

The practical application resulting from our space program are almost without limit. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) has dramatized the entire science of systems analysis, demonstrating how step-by-step progress can be made in solving virtually any human problem. In addition, NASA is cooperating in a great variety of inter-planetary studies and other experimental programs in outer space. Numerous private concerns and foreign governmental agencies are involved in these programs.

International understanding and cooperation have resulted from the sharing of space information and techniques as developed by the United States and the Soviet Union. In the area of communications and meteorological data, we have cooperated with France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan, and other nations. Indeed, the current satellite geodesy experiment which is gathering basic information about the earth's surface is supported by some 23 nations including many from the Soviet Bloc. Progress in nutrition, medicine, optics, photography, astronomy, and various scientific and technological subjects is a part of the "fall-out" attributable directly to the space program.

Appropriations for the space program are being reduced and the space program is being spread out. But to abandon both the progress—and promise—of the space program would seem to be illogical—and unwise.

As President Nixon declared recently: "... a balanced national aeronautics and space program ... is compatible with our national priorities, goals, and resources ...". He added that our overall goals are "continued exploration, scientific knowledge, and practical applications."

In summary, it becomes clear that most of the future space program will be directed to conditions here on earth, i.e., improvement of the earth's environment; expansion of our communications; promotion of meteorology; and service to navigation, agriculture, education and transportation.

With these as our goals, it would seem hard to conceive of an investment promising greater dividends for this and future generations of mankind.

Tornado Season Arrives With March

Imagine a force of such magnitude that it lifts an 83-ton railroad coach and its 117 passengers straight up in the air, whisks it 80 feet, and drops it in a ditch. This happened in Minnesota 40 years ago.

It is, of course, a tornado, the most violent of all storms. And in Southern Illinois, focal point of what the U. S. Commerce Department calls the worst one ever to hit the United States (March 18, 1925), the twister season is again at hand.

March, April, May and June—these are the peak tornado months. Records show that the pre-season buildup for the plains onslaught usually takes place with February tornadoes in the central Gulf States. The statistics have been brutally confirmed already this year.

In Jackson County, Illinois, there have been two tornado watches so far in 1971. The most recent, as of this writing, occupied Civil Defense people at the Southern Illinois University Carbondale Campus CD unit for eight hours during the afternoon and evening of Feb. 19. Thirteen watches were maintained in that room last year.

The big twister of '25 was actually a series of eight which killed 737 people in Missouri, Indiana, Illinois and parts of Kentucky and Tennessee.

The main storm drilled a path 200 miles long and a mile wide in some places. It was named after the town it hit the hardest: Murphysboro, Ill., where 240 deaths were recorded. Add De-Soto (76), West Frankford (127) and Griffin, Ind. (52) and the scope of destruction becomes appallingly apparent.

In those days there weren't any interlocking networks of alert and alarm that possibly could have averted mortality of such colossal scale.

But even the well-knit organization in Jackson County, with more than 100 radio-equipped people linked to it, would admit that the battle hinges largely on early sighting and tracking. It just isn't possible to predict where and when a tornado funnel will touch down.

Even so, how people choose to react to the actual threat of a tornado appears to be no small factor in its effects.

SU Geographer Luane Baumann assembled a research team to find out how people perceive and adjust to tornado hazards. He and his crew went to Kansas, Oklahoma, Illinois, Alabama, Massachusetts and Connecticut—high, medium and low-frequency tornado areas—to talk, listen and study records and reports.

His data is complete on Illinois and Alabama and it shows some strange differences. In the south, it appears, there is a strong feeling that if a tornado is coming, there's little to be done. If your number's up, that's it—so the thinking seems to prevail in many areas.

In Illinois, Baumann found, people are much more responsive to the threat. While they may believe no less strongly in the role of a "higher force," they still think they have some control over their destinies and do the routine things—opening some windows, heading for shelter, keeping abreast of radio weather bulletins.

Baumann admits one conclusion is tentative, but interviews indicate that a lot of Alabamians simply stood and watched, when tornadoes approached.

Baumann, a student of tornadoes, doesn't buy the cherished notion that the best tornado shelter for average householders is the southwest corner of the basement.

This has been held logical because it's thought that tornadoes frequently move in a southwest-to-northeast angle, so if you're in the approach end of the house, debris will be blown away from you.

He cites a University of Kansas geographer's study of the 1966 Topeka, Kansas, tornado, in which wreckage was found most commonly in the southern end of shattered homes. Furthermore, the researcher confirmed that many of the Topeka injuries were sustained by people who had taken cover in the southwest corner of their basements.

"The Topeka data has been disputed, but Baumann believes it is convincing enough to challenge the "southwest corner" precaution. He says he'll opt for the "north central" part of his basement if a big blow comes.

He's got another piece of advice. His records (from coroners' reports) show that 85 per cent of tornado fatalities may be attributed to head injuries. Why not, he asks, include something like crash helmets as standard tornado protection equipment.

Your Funds Help Space Program

United Community Service of Lake County involved in the space program? Yes, $350 of funds contributed to the 1970 United Fund Campaign by Lake Countyans is helping to make space exploration possible because the United Fund supported United Health Foundations last year.

One of the special research projects that UHF is currently undertaking is located high on top of Mt. Logan in the Canadian Rockies. A team of medical researchers from Chicago's Presbyterian-St. Luke's Hospital and Cornell University in New York, is studying the effects of conditions similar to those encountered in outer space on the human body.

Without this kind of research, the Apollo moon missions would be even more dangerous and formidable. But armed with this knowledge, astronauts can counteract the effects of cold, weightlessness and lack of oxygen and water.

The research program which is supported through this United Community Services agency relies completely on contributions from the United Fund and other United campaigns throughout the country. "UHF does not conduct separate fund drives and invests every dollar given to it for research directly into medical centers or other research institutions.

Over the past seven years, more than $18 million in grants have been given by United Health Foundations for medical and health research in major areas of health interest, including cancer, heart disease and neuromuscular illness, as well as research that cuts across many health concerns.

New Firms Incorporated Total 1,004

New corporations incorporated or licensed in Illinois totaled 1,071 in February, according to figures released today by Secretary of State John W. Lewis. The February total represents an increase of 67 over the 1,004 new corporations registered in February of last year.

During the first two months of 1971, 2,179 new corporations have been formed in Illinois an increase of 60 over the 2,119 new corporations in the same period of 1970.

The Secretary of State's Corporation Division collected $670,744.61 in fees and taxes during February, a decrease of $279,063.67 from the $949,808.28 collected in February of 1970.

The Division has collected $1,285,177.00 during the first two months of this year, for a decrease of $190,451.42 from the $1,475,628.42 collected for the same period of 1970.

Secretary Lewis explained that the decreased totals are still a reflection of the decrease in the minimum initial and annual franchise tax from $100 to $25.

Waukegan CLC Student Now Eligible For Ford Grant

William L. Davis, Waukegan, has been chosen as the winner nominee for support of continued study by the College of Lake County Ford Foundation Upper Division Scholarship Program committee. Designated as honorable mention nominated by the college committee were Miss Jean B. Whitehead and Anthony B. Nicholson, both from Waukegan.

The selection of the winner nominee and honorable mention nominees is based on the excellent academic record achieved at the College of Lake County and the (expressed) desire to transfer to a senior college or university to continue and complete study for the bachelor's degree.

The Upper Division Scholarships for Black Americans, Mexican Americans, Puerto Rican Americans, and American Indians is a new Ford Foundation program, providing financial aid for students in selected minority groups. The program recognizes the value of using the community college as an appropriate place to begin post-secondary education and the desirability of continuing in a bachelor's degree program after completion of an associate degree in the two-year college.

As the local winner nominee, Mr. Davis becomes eligible for consideration of a Ford Foundation Scholarship which partially funds the cost of attending a senior institution. Such scholarships are granted for full-time study over a one-year period of time and are renewable for students who make satisfactory progress. If granted a scholarship, Mr. Davis may use the scholarship at any four-year college or university in the United States.

Mr. Davis, Miss Whitehead, and Mr. Nicholson will have the honor of having their names appear on a national list of all winners and honorable mentions. The list will be sent to every senior college and university in the country and will serve to alert the senior institutions of capable students who desire to continue their studies.

Now one of the safest investments in the world brings you new and higher returns.
